

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES TOMORROW NIGHT, FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

THE CHARLEROI MAIL

VOL. XIX—NO 269

CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 1919

TWO CENTS

SUNDAY LOAN EXHIBITS WILL BE UP TO EACH COMMUNITY

Flying Stunts, Movies and Other Features to Be Decided Locally

GOVERNMENT NOT TO INTERFERE

The Sunday observance issue raised by protest of churches and ministers in a number of cities against flying stunts and exhibition of moving pictures in connection with the Victory Liberty Loan was met by the Treasury Department on Friday in a decision to leave the question to each community affected.

Frank R. Wilson, director of loan publicity, telegraphed the loan chairman of each community where the flying stunts of aviators are scheduled to fly Sunday saying it was the belief of Secretary Glass that the dates should be abandoned, but that the trains bearing the airplanes and crews would be run on schedule and the exhibitions would be held if all interests of a community agreed.

A number of cities from the west have already telegraphed the treasury department protesting against any abandonment of the air program in those towns. The preachers of Walla Walla, Washington, gave up their objections when it was learned the demonstrations were to be held in the afternoon and not during the hours of church services.

Just what demonstrations of a public nature will take place in Charleroi on any of the Sundays during the campaign has not yet been definitely determined, although some preliminary consultations have already taken place. The film, "The Price of Peace," has been offered for a public exhibition for a Sunday, but so far the local committee is not in a position to announce whether it will be given or not.

MEETINGS CLOSE TOMORROW NIGHT

The evangelistic meetings at the First Christian church, which have been in progress for the past week, will close on Sunday night. Three big services will be held on Sunday, beginning at 9:45. At the Bible school hour there will be special Easter exercises by the children of the school. A fine program has been arranged under the direction of Miss Bessie Reilly. At 10:45 the hour of worship there will be special Easter music and a special sermon by the minister on "The Resurrection of Christ." The evening service will begin at 7:30 and will be featured by special music. C. G. Wood, the leader of song, will sing, "Tell Mother I'll be There." Rev. Huffer will speak from the subject, "Mother, Home and Heaven." Half hour song service will precede the sermon.

BOB COYLE AS A HARBINGER OF SPRING

The Uniontown Morning Herald of Friday morning says "Proof, weather conditions notwithstanding, that summer is at hand, was given last evening when Bob Coyle breezed in from Charleroi, spreading the tidings that Shady Grove would be to the fore this year bigger and better than ever and with added improvements. Mr. Coyle said the opening date had not yet been definitely decided but indicated that activities at the park would get under way early next month."

SAW SERVICE ON THE WATER WAGON

The Mail is in receipt of the following letter from Corporal J. E. McGuire of Co. E, 30th Water Train now in camp near St. Nazaire, France:

Editor Mail—Just a few lines to let you know that things over here are getting along fine. France is a good place for those that like it, but it is no place for me. I have seen a good many interesting places, but the good old U. S. A. for me.

We left the United States Sept. 24 and landed in Liverpool. We were in rest camp for two days and then we crossed to France. We were sent to another rest camp, where I saw Keith Campbell of Charleroi. Leaving there we went to St. Nazaire, where we got 5 White trucks and started for the front. It took us about six days to get there, and we were driving some. We arrived at Arment, where we met the rest of the outfit; we were with them for two days and then we started for the Argonne forest, a distance of about 30 miles. We did not make very good time for the roads were crowded. We got up to the woods about 2 p. m. and we were lined up along the road, waiting to get in where we were to park our trucks. There were six-inch guns all around us, and one right beside the road, but we did not see it. We were all about half asleep in our trucks when the gun was discharged. I jumped about six feet but some of them had me beat a mile. John Huges didn't have a thing on us for high jumping.

We got into the woods that night, and it was quite dark. We were not permitted to have any fires or lights. The cooks got us some corn beef and hardtack and that was our supper for that night. We had no place to sleep, so we just dropped down under a tree and tried to get some rest. The next morning I was mud from head to foot. It did not take us long to get a dugout for ourselves and picks and shovels were busy in all directions.

One of the fellows was sent for some water and he took one of the trucks. He got the water and was on the march.

FINISH AS THEY DID

Time was when America was regarded abroad as a country that wouldn't fight under any circumstances. As being willing always to turn the other cheek. As pacifist to the last word all the time.

A nation of money chasers that put the dollar above everything else. But that is all changed now.

Today every one of the allied nations takes off its hat to the Yanks as first class fighting men. Hands them its most cherished decorations for valor on the field. Gives them the first place of honor.

And makes of America's President the man of the hour; champion of justice and leader in Liberty's advance.

America's fighting standard was established for all time in that memorable advance in the St. Mihiel sector. There they did in three days what they had been expected to accomplish in ten. Nonplussed the Germans by charging machine gun nests in the open and shocked them into the first realization that for them the end was in sight.

And wherever Americans took part in the operations, on land, on sea or in the air they unfailingly gave this same good account of themselves. Won the reputation of fighting for pure love of conflict.

Germany simply quit cold in the face of 2,000,000 two-handed, rough-and-tumble, every-fellow-for-himself, Yankee scrappers, glibtons for punishment every one of them. That St. Mihiel reverse was the beginning of the end.

None finished more gloriously than the men in khaki. And we stay-at-homes must finish as well as they did. Uncle Sam called them and they offered their lives.

We must offer our money in the coming Victory—Liberty Loan. The country needs it.

Vocational Training For Disabled Soldiers

The United States Government and the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks have entered into a cooperative arrangement through which every disabled soldier, sailor and marine of this country will be given full vocational education of whatever character may be necessary to fit him to become self-supporting and independent.

This has been made possible through an act of Congress, passed June 27th, 1918, putting this work in the hands of the Federal Board for Vocational Education and authorizing a cooperative arrangement between it and such private agency as it may select to aid it.

The Elks Relief Commission Fund will be used for advancing money to men whose cases are still pending before the War Risk Insurance Board, and for reeducating those technically outside the purview of the vocational education act, including all disabled men to avail themselves of it. The men themselves and their families must be personally consulted as to the best line of vocational work for these men, and impressed with the importance of beginning training without delay. More than 500 vocations are opened to those disabled men for special training and nearly 30 educational and technical institutions throughout the country, such as Yale and Harvard Universities, Massachusetts Institute of Technology trade schools, agricultural colleges and commercial schools have opened their doors to aid in this work.

Dr. D. E. Sloan, D. M. McCloskey and Edward Masters compose a local committee from Charleroi Lodge, No. 494, B. P. O. E., who will be glad to consult with any soldier who desires or who is in need of training of this kind.

Public Meeting Next Monday Evening of Vital Importance

GOOD SPEAKERS WILL BE HERE

John D. Berryman, chairman of the town committee for the Victory Liberty Loan, made a request this morning that not only all active workers, but likewise the citizens of the community as far as possible attend the first public meeting, to be held Monday evening at the First Christian church. W. S. VanDyke, the principal speaker of the evening, will have a message of special significance to the people generally, rather than for the workers. The necessity for the loan, and why the people at large should subscribe to the limit, will be particular points with this speaker, who will have much to say of the most vital importance to the people of the community.

Chairman Berryman hopes to have the campaign start with a rush, and that all of the hard work may be accomplished during the early days of the drive, rather than have it during the closing hours. It is his object to sell the local quota as rapidly as possible—the sooner the better and for this reason he is asking that the Christian church be filled to overflowing Monday evening; in fact he would like to see an overflow meeting. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock and is open to all the public.

GRASS PLOT MAY BE A REALITY

Two big dump cars loaded with soil obtained from a point on the Monongahela & Southern south of Brownsville, were brought to Charleroi Friday noon and dumped in the local freight yard, opposite the foot of Fourth street. This soil will be used as a top dressing for the proposed grass plot which the railroad company has in contemplation at that point, and which, when finally completed, will add materially to the beauty that portion of McKean avenue. Prior to the paving of the local yard that spot was principally prominent as being the depository for a miscellaneous lot of junk, but since the yard improvements have been made it has been cleaned off nicely and made much more presentable. Business men and others in that section of town hope the railroad company officials will direct the improvement completed as soon as possible.

THE GREAT FUR MARKET

In consequence of the shifts of trade due to the late war New York has become the world's greatest fur market. This fact alone lends a certain interest to a published list of furs recently on sale there. The list is also interesting because of its surprises. But the chief interest to the reader of sporting instincts is in the visions of hunting and trapping, considerable of it dangerous, that are brought before the mind's eye. There is mention, for example of 28,189 wolf skins, 294 wolverines and 12 tigers. The leopard, bear, mountain lion, lynx and wildcat are also represented. Of course the tigers and leopards were killed in far countries, but most of the wolves and the other fierce creatures named were presumably taken on this continent, the wolf skins doubtless coming from our far West and from Canada. Thrilling encounters with wolves and some of the other fearsome creatures named are still a feature in fiction for boys with the American continent as its scene. Older readers who smile skeptically will be properly rebuked as well as enlightened by these fur market figures.

The muskrat heads the list, in number no less than 558,423, while the smallest number is that of 4 musk-oxen. The habitat of the muskrat is continent wide, while the musk-ox, or small buffalo, is heard of only in upper British America. There is great variety in fox skins. In addition to red, white, blue, gray, silver, cross and Australian foxes, 1,000 fox paws and 7,800 fox tails are listed. Presumably the 6,187 "sundry" foxes cover still other varieties. That the mole is hunted for his good fur with great success appears from the 292,823 mole skins recorded. No rat skins are mentioned, but they may be in future announcements, for a recent experiment in lining heavy coats with rat skins is said to have been highly successful.

Among the surprises are 32,793 house cat skins, 279,974 opossum skins, and 19,000 baranduki skins. What is the baranduki? Where does it come from, is it a mild or a fearsome creature and is the name Hindoo or Russian? After turning pages we fail to find it. There is no mystery about the house cat, on the other hand. In our back yards mostly those more than thirty thousand Toms and Tabbies were slain in order to furnish a warm fur that more often than not, perhaps, is dignified with some fancy foreign name. The mention of Brer Possum brings to the Southerner's mind old-time visions of persimmon trees on a frosty morning and night raids with a darky, a dog and a pine torch. But who would have expected to hear of 279,974 opossum skins in the year 1919. It is clear that the creature is still plentiful and that his cunning pretense that he is dead when he is not—from which we get the expressive phrase, "playing possum"—leads to rather than prevents his capture.

THE STEEL PRICES

It is a curious state of affairs when warring officials in the country must appeal to President Wilson to settle a matter of mere routine. Director Hines will not agree to the steel prices which the Industrial Board, under the direction of Secretary Redfield, has fixed upon in conference with the manufacturers, but insists on rates which the steel men will not give. The Industrial Board persists that it will fight for the right to control matters within its jurisdiction and has appealed to Paris.

Now there is some uncertainty as to what rights the Industrial Board exercises under the law, which is rather vague, and the situation is further complicated by the fact that the war is not officially over it is certain that conditions have so changed that there is some doubt of the Commission's powers. But there does not seem to be any reason why Director Hines should upset the apple cart. His only strength lies in the fact that he

ADDITIONAL BOND EXEMPTIONS MADE

The treasury department on Wednesday issued a reminder that under the Victory loan act a person may up to $20,000 bonds of the first Liberty loan converted, second, third and fourth loans with interest received after January 1, 1919, exempt from surtaxes, excess profits and war profits taxes on condition that he holds at least one-third as many Victory Liberty loan notes. This exemption continues during the life of the Victory notes.

In addition interest received after January 1, 1919, for five years on a maximum of $30,000 first Liberty Loan converted, second, third and fourth loan bonds, is exempt from surtaxes, excess profits and war profits taxes. This exemption is in addition to previous exemptions and was made by the Victory Liberty loan act. It is independent of subscriptions to the Victory loan.

COMMITTEE GETS

WORK UNDER WAY
The Women's Victory Liberty Loan committee for Lock No. Four of which Mrs. Teresa Hayden is chairman, met at the home of S. W. Sharpnack Friday evening, for the purpose of getting their work under way. Ten members of the committee were present and John Caffie a returned soldier and Mrs. C. C. Wright were the speakers.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Daly and Mrs. James S. McKean returned Friday morning, after spending the winter at their southern home in Orlando, Florida.

Duncan Berryman, attached to the medical detachment at General Hospital No. 3, Rahway, N. J., arrived home this morning to spend Easter with the home folks. He will return east Sunday evening.

must soon give out heavy orders for railway equipment and refuses to accept the figures of the Industrial Board, although at the same time he is given certain railway employees great advances in wages.

The deadlock seems unnecessary. Mr. Hines cannot expect low prices for steel without reduction in wages, which at this time is impossible. granted much larger concessions than they desired, but were overpowered by Secretary Redfield. It is now up to the President to settle a matter at long range, where he is without data and must act on general principles. Of course, this is one result of his absence from the country, but it is strange that he could not have made arrangements to have minor matters settled without disturbing his abnormal labors in Paris.

In the meantime the country waits. If the Industrial Board is upheld it is expected that more price fixing will be done soon. If it is overruled the business interests of the country will be in despair, since they cannot meet Mr. Hines' ideas without provoking industrial antagonisms which they have no desire to face. It is an unfortunate situation when so far the administration of affairs of great moment in this country are concerned there is "nobody home."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Apart from the Protestant objection to the conferring of sainthood from this world, with its seeming attempt to fix the status of an inhabitant of the higher sphere, the recent canonization of Joan of Arc at the Vatican, considered as an honor or mark of respect, may be described as one well bestowed and coming after surprising delay. The Maid of Orleans, who led the French armies and burned by the enemies of her country in 1431, an age when witches were supposed to deserve that fate, may well take rank as a goddess of patriotism, for she typified as none other before or since her time the indomitable spirit of a menaced France.

INTEREST IN GOOD ROADS IS GROWING

The membership of the Washington County Good Roads association continues to increase. Many new with the organization since the last meeting. Those who have become members are asked by the executive committee to solicit other members, in their respective communities so as to secure as large and general interest in the good roads movement as is possible throughout the county.

It is provided in the constitution of the association that more than one membership may be taken out by individuals, corporations, or partnerships, although five votes is the maximum voting power for any membership standing in the name of an individual, corporation or partnership. A meeting of the executive committee of the association will be held at the public meeting room of the court house Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock at which time a number of important matters will be taken up for consideration.

SUGGESTS CHANGE IN ROUTE NO. 115

H. R. Campbell, Chief Clerk of the County Commissioners of Washington County, has written the Department calling attention to a request of citizens living on or near Route No. 115, asking that this Route be changed from Hickory to Washington, eliminating a dirt road and taking over improved roads now built by the county and township. Mr. Campbell asks if correcting legislation would be satisfactory to the State Highway Department. He has been informed that the Department policy is that the relocations of State Highway Routes which require legislative action, are function entirely for the Legislature to perform.

17-YEAR LOCUSTS ARE ON THE WAY

Indubitable proof that a good portion of southern central and eastern Pennsylvania will be afflicted with the 17-year locust has been received by the State Department of Agriculture at Harrisburg. However, according to Prof. J. G. Sanders of the State Department of zoology, this section of the State will not be visited by the pest, the furthest east the locusts will come being Somerset and Blair counties. It is said the locusts will do but very little harm to foliage and unless they come in large quantities the larvae do not ruin many trees by gathering at the roots and sucking the sap.

RECEIVES TELEGRAM

OF RELATIVE'S DEATH

Mrs. W. W. Jameson received a telegram this morning announcing the death of her uncle, Fred Cardon, at his home in Clearfield, Pa. He is survived by his widow and nine children. One daughter, Miss Max Cardon, is well known in Charleroi, having visited here quite frequently. He is the oldest brother of Mrs. Sophia Cardon DeVinney, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Jameson. He was also a brother of Mrs. Grace Cardon Smith and Frank Cardon of Donora.

the way back when a Hun shell dropped near him. That kind of got his nerve and he gave that old truck all the gas it could take. A fellow with him said he was going "90 miles an hour," but the driver was saying,
"What's the matter with this old truck, it won't go."

The first night was the worst night for us. After that we were all right.
The airplanes were fighting overhead practically all the time and it was some sport to watch them. At night the Hun planes would come over and shell the woods. We could hear them coming, but they would shut their motors off, and that was when they would do their dirty work.

I was on guard the night the last drive started, and when it opened it looked as if the earth was on fire.
We were in a horseshoe and they were coming all ways. We could hear the big shells singing when they came over.

After the armistice was signed we got orders to move, but we didn't know where we were going. We were assigned to the 26th Engineers and started for Germany. We had a fine trip all the way. We put up any-place that was handy when nighttime came. We put a cow out of a barn one night and took its place alongside a pigpen. However, we didn't mind that. I met an old pal of mine named Duttime, while on the way, and we had some time. We got to Coblentz on the 13th of December. I was in the 11th with an officer. We were in on the 11th with an officer. We had a pass but we were there just the same.

We had a fine time while we were in Germany and the people were good to us. They have plenty of everything to eat except bread. I have seen a lot of this side of the pond. I have been in England, France, Luxemburg, Germany, and a part of Belgium. There is some talk of driving some trucks to Holland. If they do, me for that job. Well, it is time for "lights out," so I will close with regards to all.

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back-number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings old age prematurely.
The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A. Take GOLD MEDAL Hearlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles supple, your mind active,
and your body capable of hard work.
Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man
now. Go to your druggist at once.
Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Hearlem Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Hearlem Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine.
Money refunded if they do not help you.
Remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL Brand. In three sizes, sealed packages.

EASTERTIDE

With the bursting of the buds this Easter there wells anew in hearts through the world the spirit of service.
Service, Man to Man, and Nation to Nation, this is the vision which comes with peace, like the first faint glow of the morning.
May each of us be inspired to do our share in lifting this new inspiration from the dimness of a horizon glow to full, clear and glory in the Zenith of a new day.
Surely it is a wonderful opportunity which this Eastertide brings.

WOMAN SAVED MUCH SUFFERING

By taking Friend's Advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Plains, Mo.—"I was all run down in health, had indigestion and terrible cramps every month so I was unable to do anything."

I had tried every doctor in West Plains, also every remedy I could think of, without relief. One day when I was suffering greatly a friend was at my house and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?'

So I did, and through it, I found relief from my suffering and I really believe it saved my life. It does not seem as though I can say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine for the health it has brought me."

MISS CORA LEE HALL, West Plains, Mo.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it! All who suffer should try it. Why risk life and health without it?

For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.
